Invitation to the Presentation: PCE-Literature Database

Presentation (talk) 60 minutes, Room 2002 -- after the presentation will be the workshop on PCE-Literature database in the same room

Monday, July 9, 2018 – 19:00-20:00

To this presentation we would like to invite authors, editors (of journals), researchers and others who are interested in knowledge management of person-centered literature and research outcomes. Our goal is to create a network of people in every language from all over the world, who can contribute in keeping the database up-to-date by adding references to PCE-literature autonomously.

The project www.pce-literature.org was originally initiated by Robert Waldl. It is operated by Forum (Austria), GwG (Germany), ÖGWG (Austria) and WAPCEPC in order to provide a modern means of access to the academic literature of Person-Centered & Experiential Psychotherapy. It provides a database aimed specifically at researchers, students, and psychotherapists, but is also available to the general public as it is accessible via internet.

With today the database comprises more than 12.000 references, including a small number of abstracts and full-texts. The majority of the publications is in English, German and Dutch, but publications in French, Spanish, Russian, Hungarian, Greek and Japanese are included as well. In the lecture the frontend and the backend-software of www.pce-literature.org will be presented. We will also discuss legal issues concerning the copyright of PCE-related texts.
